Advent

(Latin ad-venio, to come to).

According to present [1907] usage, Advent is a period beginning with the Sunday nearest to the feast of St. Andrew the Apostle

(30 November) and embracing four Sundays. The first Sunday may be as early as 27 November, and then Advent has twenty-eight days, or as late as 3 December, giving the season only twenty-one days.

With Advent the ecclesiastical year begins in the $\frac{\text{Western churches}}{\text{thful}}$. During this time the $\frac{\text{fai}}{\text{thful}}$

are admonished

- to prepare themselves worthily to celebrate the anniversary of the Lord's coming into the world as the incarnate

God

of

love

- thus to make their souls fitting abodes for the Redeemer coming in Holy and through

Communion

grace

, and

- thereby to make themselves ready for His final coming as judge, at $\frac{\text{death}}{\text{and}}$ and at the end of the world
