On this day, about 2000 years ago, Jesus washed the feet of his disciples and said to them this:

St. Peter his chief Apostle said, what we sing in the refrain.

Dust laden feet so caring cleansed

passover meal consumed

fresh covenant in Eucharist gift prayers made and promises to loving friends, not servants now commandment new he gives:

“Wash feet in service, heal, forgive

as I have done for you.”

“Let us go forth... outside through night to light of Father’s bid”.

In garden crushed breaks out the sweat

of frail and human form surrender plea: "If possible...

but yet – your will be done.

My Father let this chalice pass

but yes - your will be done..!"

terryq: March,2013
